

THE ONCE OVER

Campus Growth

The Baron's Horse

By JAMES W. STINCHCOMB

MANY times have I heard from members both of the student body and of the faculty that this institution is not what it ought to be. Their statements, often as amusingly disingenuous as indisputably sound, encourage one to say a word in behalf of growth and progress on this campus. A number of students who read this weekly for the first time will be interested in knowing that it is a better paper than it was four years ago. Mimeographed Vigilante, Bay Leaf, and nationally recognized Golden Gater it has been in just a few years.

IN the transitional period between a sheely experimental project and a publication coordinately serving, certain women now graduated and hardly remembered took a trick at the wheel. Civa Griffiths, Betty Fiske, Mildred Scott, and Vida Giesen, no less hard working than outstanding, are among them. They not only saw but felt a change in the life of a young teachers college. I dare not call that change great; at least it was distinct and desirable.

There is more than a little to be said about what we have done and are doing in other kinds of work. We can even look ahead. A new campus is not too far off. This brief consideration of advances in journalism simply is a reminder that one little college is moving along, statements or no.

WE have been told that one man in his time plays many parts. I looked at John Schiller and saw how different one of those parts may be from another. John is well on toward sixty. His hair is very gray, and he dresses in the drab, rough clothes of a laborer. When he is not plodding along the streets of San Francisco and looking for a job, he holds a job and gets enough to provide for his wife and himself.

They live in a small house-keeping room with which the linen is free and in which it is necessary to burn lights in the daytime.

JOHN has not always lived this way. Once he was not John. Baron Ivan Schiller, junior lieutenant in the Second Polk Hussars of Nicholas II, Czar of all the Russias, better described him in the years during the Great War and before. In those days the Baron Schiller had always a man to polish his boots and care for his brilliant hussar uniforms. The officers and men of the Second Polk were selected not only because of height or weight but because of ruddy complexion. Every hussar of that unit rode a gray horse. Horseman, trick riding and daring were the natural qualifications for one and all.

The Baron loved his horse, Moshka. She was his sweetheart and never failed to come in answer to his whistle. At the front near the end of the war both of them fell from shrapnel wounds. A large, hind leg muscle was torn so that Moshka was to gallop in battle no more. She could still hobble about, however, but during the two days that the Baron waited for the stretcher bearers, Moshka seemed to remember that she was his sweetheart and stayed with him. Having both been taken behind the lines, the Baron recovered, but Moshka's wound would not heal. The beautiful gray mare became a living, skinny carcass.

AT last Baron Schiller had to consent to her being shot. It is no longer the Baron, but John, who says: "I am not sorry I came to the United States. Roosevelt is the finest president we've ever had."

Return of Co-op to Campus Marks First Sign of '34 Progress

Perce Marples, Leo Nee
Aid Reorganization
of 'Caf,' Co-op

"Welcome home." That is the reception being received by the Co-op now that it is once more back on the campus. Its return marks the climax of a story that is history at State.

Forced off the campus a year ago due to circumstances beyond its control, the Co-op was the center of a controversy that has now been cleared up. Its new location, on the lower floor of College Hall, next to the cafeteria, is heralded by all its patrons.

Mr. Perce Marples has been moved from his former post to that of superintendent and buyer for the Co-op and cafeteria. He is striving to keep cafeteria food costs down, improve the quality of food served, and at the same time hopes to increase the portions. Mrs. Marples has been given the complete management of the Co-op.

Both the Co-op and the cafeteria are student businesses, controlled and operated by students. As such they are entitled to the patronage of the entire student body.

In its new location the Co-op is more accessible. The long trek down the hill to Market Street is no longer necessary. The placing of the book store next to the cafeteria has done much to improve the appearance of the place. The booths, formerly part of the rustic background of the Co-op, have been installed. The soda fountain has been elongated in order to serve students more quickly and efficiently.

A hard fought battle has been won, the students' Co-op being once more within the reach of the students. It is located in its rightful place, the main building of College Hall.

Mr. Leo C. Nee, controller of the college, is in charge of the finances of both the Co-op and cafeteria, and with Mr. Marples was instrumental in keeping the costs of moving at a minimum.

Armand Leport was elected president of the Music Federation at a recent election held by the club. Other officers elected were James Snyder, vice-president, and Deane Tutt, secretary-treasurer. Representatives from the various music organizations will be elected this week.

Through efforts of Leport, tickets for symphony concerts will now be available at student rates. Mr. Peter Connelly, manager of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, stated that student tickets were discontinued last semester because of the abuse of the privilege, especially at high schools.

Only one ticket will be available to members of the Music Federation by first consulting Tutt or Leport. The San Francisco State Teachers College is the only school to enjoy student rates this semester.

Great advancement to the activities of the Federation this semester will be that of student advertising to attract students to the college. By this plan, various individuals and organizations of the music department will publicize musical programs before the public, especially at high schools.

A second plan of Leport's program is that of holding a survey of the music opportunities and presenting the music students of this college in the various activities. Musical presentation of this type will be held in the music students before the public and thereby create possibilities for the students.

"We are also planning to take over the responsibility of renting instruments to be used in the school in its various activities," was the statement of President Leport.

The first meeting of the Executive Board has been scheduled for today, at which time plans for this semester will be made. The entire Board is looking ahead to the Symposium, to which they urge all students to attend.

Ralph Goff, student body president, states that two dances will be held in order to raise money for the Symposium. The first symposium dance will be at noon Thursday, in the women's gymnasium. An evening dance will follow in a few weeks.

The Executive Board is the legislative and administrative body of the college, and as such must approve all entertainments and committees. This term the board promises a full and interesting program of rallies and assemblies.

New Names In Gater's Staff Box

Numerous new names are to be seen in the staff box of the Golden Gater this semester. The new editor-in-chief is Jean Webb, who was news editor last semester. The news editor is Wesley Johnson, who wrote his "Personalities" column last semester. The editor of the editorial page has not been changed, Clarice Dechent holding this position once more.

The new sports editor is Rudy Rudd, who previously was sports assistant. George Clark is assistant sports editor. The editor of women's sports is Evelyn Harris, a previous W. A. A. reporter. The editorial assistants, who have charge of copy-reading and head-line writing, are Mary Tuck, Charles Britten, and Elizabeth Kennedy. Fred Wiseman, editor-in-chief of the Golden Gater, previously to this semester, is now a feature writer. Beverly Lyon, an assistant editor last semester, and Howard Miguel, a sports writer of last spring, are also feature writers.

Magnus Continues Office
Elsa Magnus will again fill the office of business manager. The assistant business manager is Stanley Sieber, past circulation manager. The new advertising manager is Grace Rankin. Thelma Bramley, last fall advertising manager, is now circulation manager. The student director of publications is again James Stinchcomb, and the faculty advisor Mrs. Blanche Ellsworth. The Board of Publications is composed of Hazel Griffiths, Dan Baker, Harry Marks, Miss Cecilia Anderson, and Miss Grace Carter.

Among new features in the paper is the column on the editorial page presenting news concerning arts, drama, literature and music on the campus and about town. Fred Wiseman and Beverly Lyon are other editorial page columnists, and Wesley Johnson is again the writer of "Personalities."

Readers Express Opinions
The column on the editorial page headed "Lifting the Lid" is for the purpose of giving readers the opportunity to voice their opinions and impressions of the college. The "Lifting the Lid" section is open to all who read the Golden Gater. All editorial page contributions are to be placed in the box of Clarice Dechent, the editorial page manager, in room 113.

There is to be an ad contest this semester. Prizes will be awarded to the three students producing the highest number of column inches of ads for the Golden Gater. The minimum number of column inches required for qualification will be seventy-two.

New Year's Vows Observed (?) Here

With a new year and a new semester, there come also the inevitable "good resolutions." The following is an assortment of "new leaves" recently turned over by members of the State Teachers student body:

Mary Biggam: "I resolve to quit kidding the instructors."
Virginia Conlin: "I resolve to be the biggest and best that state ever had."

Fred Gugat: "I resolve to hate the majority of the fair sex, and also to study harder."

Jean Gilmour: "I resolve to stay home at least three times a week."
Allen Howard: "I have no reasons to make resolutions, therefore I have none."

Wilda Laver: "I resolve not to fall in love with the wrong people."
Helen Lafrano: "I resolve to give bigger and better apple-polishing in 1934."

Jack Murphy: "New Year's resolutions? I haven't given them a thought."

Helen Jones: "To leave crew alone is my only resolution for 1934."

Bob Rasmussen: "Resolutions? Why, to give bigger and better lines to more women."

Jean Thompson: "I resolve to acquire the gentle art of handing out a good line."

Spirit of Service
At State Revealed
"At the meeting of the California registrars, which is held each year, I am always surprised to find that no other college has as much voluntary student help as ours," says Miss Clara Crumpton, registrar.

"State is outstanding among the colleges in its wide use of people who wish to render service to the college. It is an honor and tradition that students are not only willing to help, but are so efficient that much important work may be turned over to them."

"This experience is not only a benefit to the college but gives the student certain experience in organization that will be of value to him in his teaching."

Internationalists Present Sponsor At Next Meeting

Topic of World Interest
To Be Subject of
Mrs. Monroe

In launching the semester's activities the International Relations Club presents Mrs. Bertha Monroe, assistant professor of social science, as speaker Wednesday, January 17, at 12:15 p. m. in Room 208.

Mrs. Monroe, sponsor of the organization, will speak on a subject of international interest. For several years Mrs. Monroe, who is an authority in her field, has been actively engaged in international relations work. Through her guidance the International Relations Club became one of the most active organizations on the campus last semester.

Installation Dinner Soon
During the Christmas holidays plans were completed for the Club's semi-annual installation dinner which will be held at Maison Paul's Grill this Friday evening, January 12.

According to Alice Mano and Ethel Hennig, who secured the place, only a limited number can be accommodated. All members and their friends are advised to make their reservations immediately.

Interesting Program Featured
The arrangements for the evening are under the direction of Elizabeth Kennedy, vice-president. After the installation of officers a program directed by Marian Miyagi, program chairman, assisted by Helen Courreges, Rosalind Alaya, and Saturnino Silva is to follow consisting of musical numbers rendered by State talent.

The officers this semester are as follows: Wesley Johnson, president; Elizabeth Kennedy, vice-president; Ismay Tobin, corresponding secretary; Helen Courreges, recording secretary; and Saturnino Silva, treasurer.

Club Membership Limited
At today's meeting under the leadership of Johnson the members of the International Relations Club mapped their greatest program. In addition to round table discussions, conferences, and the presentation of notable speakers, Johnson promised a "Bigger and Better Big Broadcast," a program offering an array of professional and student talent.

"Due to the increased student interest in our organization it has become necessary to limit our membership to one hundred," said Johnson. "We are confident that the nationalities, enthusiasm of our members and the support of our friends will make this semester's activities the most successful in our history."

The International Relations Club is primarily an organization devoted to the study of races and nationalities and the problems which are of world-wide concern. All interested students are eligible for membership. Applications for membership and information may be obtained by communicating with Wesley Johnson, Box 793, or by applying at the office of the club in Room 203.

Psychology Club to Outline Term Work

Beginning its new year, the Psychology Club will hold its first meeting and tea next Monday, January 15, in the Activities Room at 7 p. m. A program of the club's activities will be at that time be drawn up.

The officers are planning to carry on with the same system used last semester, that of securing speakers outside of their respective fields, who will discuss psychology in relation to their professions and the practical side of life.

Members of the Psychology Club commend Armand Leport, past president, for his work during the past semester. Through the efforts of Leport, many men worthy of note have addressed those interested in psychology. Among the prominent men presented by the club president have been Andrew Y. Wood, Secretary of the Bar Association; Harry A. Shuder, Director of Education and Religion at San Quentin; Carlton E. Morse, RGO entertainer; Charles Dobie, Dr. Virgil Dickson, Wilbur Hall, and Charles G. Norris.

The newly elected officers of the club are Hope Huff, president; Frances McCullum, the president, and George Masconi, secretary and treasurer.

Receiving All-American rating for the consecutive year, the Franciscan has the distinction of being one of the seven best annuals in teachers' colleges in the United States for the year of 1933. Harry Marks edited the book that scored the record of 945 points out of a possible 1000. Annuals of the six teachers' colleges in the United States to win All-American rating follow: Campus, State College, Fresno, California; La Cumbre, State College, Santa Barbara, California; Old Gold, Teachers College, Cedar Falls, Iowa; Periscope, State Teachers College, Eau Claire, Wisconsin; Rhetor, Central Missouri State Teachers College, Warrenburg, Missouri; Torch, Harris Teachers College, St. Louis, Missouri.

Frosh Debates To Draw New Society Talent

Delta Sigma Anticipates
Tilts With Western
College Teams

Entering upon a new semester of activities, the members of Delta Sigma are anticipating their first meeting to be held in the activities room at 7:30 tomorrow night.

A large number of new students have already signified their interest in the polemical activity and a good deal of stiff competition will be encountered by all the teams this semester, reports Mr. Kenneth King, instructor in English and sponsor of Delta Sigma.

Frosh to Debate
Low frosh will be especially interested in the semi-annual S. F. U. frosh vs. State frosh debate to be held early this semester. This is always the outstanding freshman debate of the term and a spirit of traditional rivalry has marked previous contests.

The frosh debaters will also meet teams from several of the local high schools. In this way inexperienced debaters will be able to get accustomed to facing audiences.

Tourney at Linfield
The attention of the varsity debaters is centered on the three big debates of the semester; one with St. Mary's, another with U. C., and the regular clash with the S. F. U. varsity. Plans for the entrance of at least two teams in the Far Western Debate Tournament are being completed. This tournament will be held at Linfield College, at Linfield, Oregon, in the middle of February. Tryouts for all of these debates will be announced in an early issue of the Golden Gater.

At the election of officers held at the conclusion of last semester's activities, Bob Van Houtte was elected president of Delta Sigma and Jack Werchick vice-president. At this time Edith May Spindler is filling the office of corresponding secretary, Marie Hersch is acting recording secretary, and Dorothy Skelley, past president, is representative to the A. W. S. Council.

Ex-President Honored
Following the lecture Mr. King addressed the group, telling of the origin and growth of debating at State. In concluding his comments he thanked all who had contributed to the success of the organization for the past semester and wished the new officers a successful regime.

Bob Van Houtte spoke of the splendid work done by Dorothy Skelley during her term as president, and then presented to her, on behalf of the entire membership, a silver compact with a mounted State emblem on the top. Skelley thanked the entire group, and the meeting adjourned so that all might enjoy the refreshments prepared by Miss Skelley.

Barrett Victor in
Chronicle Contest
Fifty dollars, first prize in the recent San Francisco "Chronicle" essay contest, was won by Eileen Barrett, a sophomore of State Teachers College here.

The contest was open to the public, and essays were received from all parts of the State of California, and also from Oregon, Washington, and Nevada. It was sponsored by the Spanish War Veterans' County Council, in conjunction with the Fletcher-McKinnon Camp and the San Francisco "Chronicle."

"Service Men of '08-'02" was the subject of the essay. One of its outstanding paragraphs was: "No nation desires war, nor does she wish to sacrifice the lives of her service men to further the cause of aggressive nations, but when historians tell us that in the action seen by the Service Men of '08, men offered to pay their comrades for the privilege of fighting in the 'thick of battle,' it makes us glow with pride and joy to be Americans, and to declare ourselves under the same flag as those heroes of Santiago and Manila Bay."

Miss Barrett was medalist in the "Chronicle's" Constitution essay contest of 1929. This State writer also received a diploma of honorable merit for an essay on George Washington's "Farewell Address," which contest was sponsored by the San Francisco "Examiner" to celebrate the two hundred anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

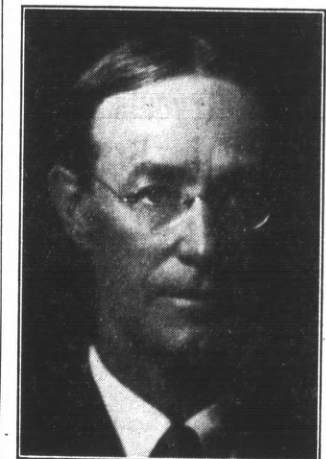

Low Frosh Class
Elects Keith Cox
Election of officers for the new freshman class was held at the first meeting of the group last Friday in room A210. The results of the election are as follows: Keith Cox, president; Catherine Faulkner, vice-president; and Charles Farrow, secretary-treasurer.

Due to the absence of Ralph Goff, president of the student body, Dick Davis, athletic manager, conducted the meeting. He announced some of the coming activities, among them being the Freshman Reception to be held on January 17.

Mary Margaret Davis, vice-president of the student body, gave a word of welcome and announced the coming Symposium on Social Problems.

Dr. Alex. Meiklejohn Accepts Invitation to Speak at Big Dinner

Sociologist

Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, noted professor, who is to be a guest speaker at the Social Science Symposium banquet.

S. A. C. Gives Assistance in Registration

New freshmen, or others desiring information, need only go to a student wearing a Student Advisory Council badge and it will be cheerfully given. Members of this council make it their duty to help incoming freshmen and transfers in arranging their programs and in completing their registration.

According to Betty McDonald, Chairman of S. A. C., many new ideas are under way to make the usual trial of new freshmen who come into strange surroundings as few as possible.

Among these is a plan to have each advisor entertain all his or her special group of advisors at a "Dutch treat dinner" in the immediate future. After each group has had its own dinner a larger and more elaborate affair has been planned for everyone in order to give all the freshmen a better chance to become acquainted.

Later in the semester the council intends to carry out a new arrangement in introducing the various clubs and organizations to new students. Preparations are being made for a large tea, at which each organization will be presented in some sort of skit, dance, or recitation in which the purpose, ideals and plans for the future of each will be offered.

At present the main work of the council is in seeing that all freshmen programs are properly taken care of. For this reason advisory meetings are being held at various times. Freshmen are urged by the council to make it their business to attend.

First Symposium Dance In Gym Tomorrow Noon

The Social Science Symposium dance committee is to sponsor a dance in the women's gymnasium tomorrow, January 11, from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. In order to sponsor the series of lectures to be given this term by noted speakers in the bay area, this noon-dance is being given to raise money.

Music will be supplied by the All and six six-piece "special arrangers." Admission price will be a 10-cent ticket, which can be purchased from members of the dance committee. This ticket will entitle the student to a two-hour period of dancing.

Arrangements for this affair were made by Freddie Ross, general chairman, and by Dave Fox, sub-chairman. The extra hour of dancing is given to allow everybody a chance to attend.

Chairman Ross announced, "Students are about to witness the biggest bargain dance ever given in the history of San Francisco State Teachers College. I hope all the State students co-operate in putting this affair over, as they will have the utmost fun and good dance music."

Maas Helps N. N. S. A.

Miss Lynette Maas, associate professor of education, has been appointed to assist on a committee of the Pacific Coast Association in planning for federal nursery schools to care for the children of the unemployed. The Pacific Association is a branch of the National Nursery School Association and is co-operating with the main body in this work.

The project is the result of a letter from President Franklin D. Roosevelt asking Professor Stoddard of Iowa University, national chairman of the association, to aid in planning for emergency Federal Nursery Schools to be established throughout the country.

Symposium Event at the Fairmont Next Month Brings Noted Men

Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn has accepted the invitation of the Social Science Symposium Committee to be guest speaker at the dinner at the Fairmont on February 12. This affair is to begin two days of lectures and discussions concerning educational, economical, and criminal problems.

Averil Harrison, chairman of the dinner committee, announced, "We consider it fortunate to have secured this noted speaker. According to information in 'Who's Who,' Dr. Meiklejohn received his B. From 1912 to 1924, he was president of Amherst College. At the University of Wisconsin, he taught philosophy. Dr. Meiklejohn is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, and Theta Delta Chi."

President to Extend Welcome
In addition to Dr. Meiklejohn's speech, there will be other numbers on the program. Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president of State, Mary Margaret Davis, student chairman of the entire Symposium; and Miss Harrison will speak words of welcome and make introductions.

As most of the speakers will be present at the dinner, the students will have an opportunity personally to meet them. All students are invited to attend this banquet in the Gold Room of the Fairmont Hotel, and to bring their friends. The fee for the occasion will be $1.00 plus five cents tax. This fee will be payable on February 9.

The committee working to make the dinner a success is under the chairmanship of Miss Harrison, Ruth Berg, and George Eisenhut.

Many Noted Speakers

As for the discussions to be held the two days following, most of the speakers have agreed to attend. Some twenty subjects have been chosen. Such noted speakers as Chief of Police William J. Quinn; Superintendent Vierling Kersey; Dr. Ralph Reynolds, psychiatrist; Mr. R. R. Miller, Chief Probation Officer of San Francisco; Dr. Frank Hart, University of California; Mr. John Barry of the San Francisco News; Mr. James Johnston of the Alcatraz Federal Prison Plan; Dr. Orrin McMurray, Dean of Boalt Hall Law School at U. C.; Dr. Percy Davidson, Stanford University; Dr. Henry Grady, Dean of University of Commerce, U. C.; Mr. F. L. Classes to Be Dismissed
The topics chosen have to do mainly with crime and its causes, court machinery and penitentiaries, education, economics, meaning, and extent of unemployment, the depression, the N.R.A., and the press and its relation to recovery.

Classes will be dismissed on February 13 and 14 in order that all students may attend these lectures. The afternoon sessions will be held on the campus between 2 and 4:30, and the evening sessions will begin at 7:30 each evening at the War Memorial.

Chester Beck Named Epsilon Mu President

Epsilon Mu, the college music fraternity, is now arranging for the coming semester a series of student recitals which will include the best talent of the music department.

With the assistance of the Music Federation, well known local musicians and speakers, including members of the college faculty, will be invited as guest soloists and speakers.

"I sincerely hope that the music students of this college will co-operate with the executives of Epsilon Mu. It is the desire of this club to work together with the Music Federation and the entire music department in carrying forward music appreciation and activity of the college to the mutual interest of all parties. I propose that 'Come to our meetings' be the club's motto," was the statement of Chester Beck, newly elected president of the club.

Rural Life Meets

Sponsored by Miss Cecilia Anderson, instructor in the Rural Life Club, the Rural Life Club will start its activities soon, when new officers will be voted in to replace the former president, Dinah Chelini, and secretary, Alice McBride, who graduated with the December '33 class.

All students are welcome to join this organization, the aim of which is to acquaint its members with rural schools. Talks by experts will be given. Meetings of the Rural Life Club are twice a month during the noon hour. Fees are twenty-five cents a semester.

Sport Manager Announces New Athletic Plans

An athletic program for San Francisco State that will compare favorably with any plan ever tried in the West—this is his objective Dick Davis, athletic manager, has planned an extensive intra-mural sports calendar to be tried at State this year.

The program will be directed by an intra-mural sports council, headed by an assistant athletic manager, who will co-operate with the coaches and managers of the various sports. Dick Curtis, former yell leader, has been appointed chairman of the council.

Sports Council Meets Friday
Eleven sports are listed on the calendar, eight of which are scheduled for this semester. The sports council will meet this Friday at 12 o'clock in Coach Dave Cox's office, to discuss the program and schedule.

The coaches and managers of sports will be in charge of the teams and will work with the assistant athletic manager to draw up and run off schedules. Among the most important duties to be performed by these men is to provide grounds for the various contests.

Rules and Regulations Discussed
Teams may be organized by the members of any class, in any subject and meeting as such, except in track swimming, cross-country, and tennis. In these sports, teams shall consist only of class members, namely low and high freshmen, low and high sophomores, juniors and seniors. No men who have won block letters at State in a sport will be eligible to play on a team in that sport.

A set of general rules has been drawn up by Davis, Curtis, and Coach Cox, covering nearly every situation that may arise. Others will be added, no doubt, at the first meeting of the sports council.

Awards to Be Given
Intra-mural sports ribbons will be awarded to members of first and second place teams in any tournament and the men winning first or second places in track and swimming will receive similar awards.

The proposed schedule for the spring term follows:
January 22 to February 9.....Speedball
February 13 to March 3.....Tennis
February 9.....Cross-country
February 24.....Track and Field
March 9.....Handball
March 12 to 16.....Handball

To Would-be Typists

The business staff of the Golden Gater would like it clearly understood that the typewriters in Room 113 are for the use of reporters only. All reporters are requested to see Elsa Magnus regarding receipt of their press cards. These cards will be used as a manner of identification in order to assure the publications group that the typists in 113 are staff reporters.

The typewriters in Room 206E are for the use of bona fide staff members of the Golden Gater ONLY. All other journalists and student body members are requested to refrain from using these machines and not to move them about the building.

College Theater to Hold Tryouts for Opening Dramatics

Dates for the coming plays and the appointment of various committees were discussed at the first meeting of College Theater since the election of its new officers. The new president, Bill Connolly, is being assisted this semester by the following officers: Alan Howard, vice-president; Lois Shaw, secretary; Art Hull, treasurer; Louis Ray, parliamentarian, and Clarence Dechent, historian.

It is the policy of College Theater this semester that a larger percentage of the students at State try out for the major and minor productions given by the group. In the past the representation has been rather small, the majority of the thespians usually appearing in several roles during a season. It is urged that every student interested try out.

Tryouts for the first play, the title of which has not as yet been chosen, will be held some time next week. Every member of the student body is eligible to try. One agreement to which all members of the cast must consent, however, is that of being present at every rehearsal.

Production Cast Chosen
Miss Jessie D. Casbolt, director, has announced that the cast for the first production will journey to Arcata to present their play before the students of Humboldt State. The purpose of this visit will be to repay Mr. Garss Wilson and his Humboldt Players for their performance of "Interference" given last fall. The play will have been presented at Frederic Burk first.

The Experimental Theater, a recently formed branch of College Theater, is under the direction of Ed Cockrum this term. Cockrum has announced that the group already has had more than enough students make application to direct the noon-hour plays. There is still a shortage of stage managers, however.

Interested Students Given Chance
Tryouts for these one-act productions will be held at various times during the semester. All interested students, regardless of status, are eligible to try out for them.

The purpose of the Experimental Theater is to permit students who have not time to devote to rehearsals of a major production an opportunity to display their talents.

Social Sorority to Hold Welcome for Students

Phi Lambda Chi is holding a freshman welcome tomorrow afternoon. The tea is being held from 4 to 6 o'clock at the club's house, 101 Buena Vista avenue. The new students are cordially invited to attend the welcome.

According to Emma Heide, chairman of the tea, "The girls who live at the house are taking charge of the welcome. They are planning a good time for all who attend."

The officers of the club are: Roberta Conner, president; Emma Heide, vice-president; Helena Atkinson, treasurer; Betty McDonald, secretary; Margery Angell, historian. The sponsors of this club are Miss Cecelia Anderson, Miss Hilda Holmes, Miss Effie McFadden, Miss Florence Vance, Miss Clara Crumpton, Mrs. Anna Dorris, and Miss Alice Alcott.

Registrars at State College '33 Convention

Miss Clara Crumpton and Miss Florence Vance, members of the administration department, attended the eighth annual Convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Collegiate Registrars held recently at the Sacramento Junior College.

According to Miss Crumpton, State registrar, this annual conference of registration and personnel workers, which in its first few meetings discusses only such mechanical features as uniform card systems, has adopted a broad field of discussion which includes policies of education and the registrar's place in the guidance and helping of students.

Guidance Instead of Force
Miss Crumpton reported: "Many outstanding talks were given at this last session. Mr. C. E. Corbin of the College of the Pacific talked on guidance for the student in his educational program. He stresses the point that the student should be guided, but not forced, into a study of his career as a whole instead of by semester-parts."

In his talk, "Study-Habit Inventory," Dr. C. B. Wren of Stanford University, presented the Stanford Plan of helping to prevent freshman failures.

Integrated Curriculum Devised
Miss Margaret Scott of Reed College presented a suggestive educational program for an A. B. degree. She explained the Reed plan of an integrated instead of departmental curriculum.

In the freshman year at Reed College students study for a biological background. Man's place in the social order is taken up in the sophomore year. Upper division students have only about four requirements. Their work is then largely a pursuit of their special interests.

Assistant United States Attorney G. B. Hjelm spoke on "The Philosophy of Life" at a luncheon given Monday.

Local Set-Up Commended
According to Miss Crumpton and Miss Vance, they came away with much inspiration and a fresh appreciation of student endeavor. "Nowhere is student participation so great as at San Francisco," said the former. The technique that San Francisco State Teachers College uses in pre-registration, formerly used in only two colleges in the state, has been adopted by eight other institutions during the past year.

"We hope to bring this annual conference to San Francisco so that other registrars may see how splendid student leadership in administrative work can be," said Miss Crumpton.

Music Book Compiled By Music Instructors

"Music students will save money this semester!" declared Dr. William Knuth, associate professor of music. In previous years, students were compelled to buy scores of printed material in order to fulfill assignments. This year Dr. Knuth and Mr. Roy Freeburg, assistant professor of music, have jointly compiled and mimeographed a fifty-page book which consists of the same material, thereby eliminating the added expense and time.

"If this book proves successful in its purpose, it should be a marked help to the music students," Mr. Freeburg continued. "Dr. Knuth and I hope that the music students will use this book to their good advantage."

Armand Lepore, newly elected president of the Music Federation, stated last week that the book will tend to correlate all the theory and harmony classes as the material will be used by all the groups.

Registrar's Notes

Second Week, January 8-13:
1. ALL STUDENTS MUST FILE PERMANENT PROGRAMS IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE BY FRIDAY.

Honor Society to Become Member Of Nat'l Fraternity

Culminating a project which the scholarship committee, headed by Dean Mary A. Ward, dean of women, has been fostering for a year and a half, the honor society of State Teachers College is to join a national educational fraternity for men and women.

There are chapters at Columbia University, William and Mary College, University of Alabama, and other leading colleges throughout the country. The chapter at State will be the nineteenth.

Noted Educator to Speak
The ceremonies, which are to be held at the Western Women's Club, include the initiation of members, installation of the chapter, election of officers, installation of officers.

President T. C. McCracken, president of Ohio University and president of the executive council of Kappa Delta Pi, has commissioned Dean R. Walters to represent him as the installing officer.

College Heads to Be Initiated
All the present active members of the honor society, and Dr. Alexander Roberts, president of the college, and Dean Clarence J. Du Four, vice-president as honor members, are to be initiated.

Banquet guests include: Superintendent Edwin Lee, of San Francisco, a member of Kappa Delta Pi; Miss Emily De Vore, a member from San Jose, and Miss Marian Harbour, former faculty member and a member of the fraternity.

Dr. Edna L. Barney Speaks on Schools Over Station KYA
Taking as her subject, "Contrasting the Old Type of School With the Modern," Dr. Edna L. Barney, professor of biological science, and medical director at State, recently spoke over KYA. This talk was sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association, and climaxed a term of educational work in San Francisco.

Dr. Barney has been active in the United States White House Conference, which has to do with child welfare. She has put much time on the preparation of the County Board book which is to be used in local welfare work. She has also been active in the Women Physicians Club, as committee chairman.

Dr. Barney has been a leading physician in the city of San Francisco for many years. Each year she offers the results of research work to the public in her addresses before such organizations as the Women's City Club, Parent-Teachers Association, and over the radio.

Club to Meet Today

Due to the use of the Activities Room for registration purposes on Wednesday, the Parent Faculty Club was unable to hold its first meeting on the regular date. It will be held, instead, this afternoon in the Activities Room at 2 p. m., and will be preceded by an executive meeting at 1 p. m.

The program for the afternoon will consist of a talk to be given by Dr. E. L. Barney, and a vocal number by Edith Short, who will be accompanied by Miss Saylin.

College Credit For Extension Classes Given

The A. E. S. and Extension Service of San Francisco State Teachers College begins this week and will extend to May 4. The extension division is for students who are employed and teachers in service, and will be available here at San Francisco State Teachers College, and in Oakland at the Technical High School.

The A. E. S. (afternoon, evening, and Saturday) Service makes available the required and elective courses leading to graduation with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Classes are from 3 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

Range of A. E. S. Courses
All departments of the college are represented in the program of classes for each semester. A one-unit class meets once a week for fifty minutes, two units for one hundred minutes, and three units, twice a week for seventy-five minutes. Four unit courses will have time adjusted to the needs of the group.

The lower division, or freshman and sophomore courses, are all academic in character, furnishing the educational background and foundation for the teacher-training courses of the upper division.

Sound college instruction is offered in English, social science, biological science, physical science, foreign language, mathematics, physical education, art, music, and other subjects.

College Credit Given
The upper division, or junior and senior courses, are approximately one-half advanced academic and one-half professional teacher training.

All courses carry regular college credit. These courses have been approved by the faculty, and are offered under the rules of the State Director of Education and the State Board of Education.

All classes conducted off the campus will be classified under Extension, as also are such courses on the campus taught by instructors who are not members of the regular faculty of the college. Other classes are A. E. S. classes. This distinction should be made clear.

Golden Gater Contest Won by Eleanor Berlant

After lively competition, the advertising contest sponsored by the business staff of the Golden Gater came to a close at the end of the fall term. The contest was based on the total number of column inches of advertising secured during the months of October and November. A total of fifty-four column inches was necessary to qualify for the prize, which was a leather jacket.

This prize jacket was won by Eleanor Berlant, a beginning journalism student, who successfully outdistanced other competitors with a total of seventy-one column inches turned in to the advertising manager.

Mr. Kenneth King, Deputations Group Map New Program

Under the guidance of Mr. Kenneth King, chairman, and Dick Davis, student body representative, the deputations committee is planning a more extensive program than has ever heretofore been undertaken by the college. The success of last semester's work has been proved by the numerous letters received by Mr. King and Dick Davis. The following is a typical example of such a communication:

San Francisco State Teachers College, San Francisco, Calif.
To Whom It May Concern:
I am the new Commissioner of Programs and Entertainment at McClymonds High School.

Nothing would please me or the students more than another program from your college. We were all delighted with your previous program and it could not have been enjoyed more.

Further Visits Desired
If it would be possible for you to give us another program could you be ready by February 28, 1934?

Thanking you,
Commissioner of Program and Entertainment,
IDA CATERA.

According to Davis, a musical and dramatic program as well as a speaker will be presented to the high school at the date suggested by them.

Programs Presented
Last semester student speakers and programs were sent to the following high schools: South San Francisco, McClymonds, San Rafael, Tamalpais, Girls. Other speakers addressed the parent-faculty clubs of Commerce, Mission and Balboa high schools.

"These speakers and programs have been instrumental in bringing the educational facilities of the State of California to the eyes of the senior classes of the various schools," says Mr. King.

Cantata Music Records Made By Madrigals

Phonograph records made by music students of State were received recently by Miss Eileen McCall, professor of music. The selections recorded were all her own compositions, one of which, "The Great Angel," was written for her Master's Degree at the University of California.

"The process of recording is very complicated," said Miss McCall. "It is done in a room similar to a radio studio, and extremely sensitive to noise. The mere turning of a page is sufficient to ruin a whole record."

Timing Shown Important
Each piece must be carefully timed. Four minutes and thirty seconds is the limit of time for a side. If a record is long, the tempo must be speeded up. The "Play-back," a soft wax record, is made first. This is heard first and errors checked before the permanent record is made.

There is an elaborate system of signals. A green light means "get ready," the white "silence," and the steady red, "start." The arrangement of singers and orchestra must be in a definite order before the microphone.

Fine Results Expected
After the recording is made it must be sent to Los Angeles and is not returned for about a week. The record itself takes a long time to make. The performers were at the studio from 6:45 until after 11:30 p. m.

The work was done by the Gregor & Solie Company, who record for the Victor and Columbia people.

Groups participating and selections used are listed below:
Melba McKnight, soloist: The Great Angel; Reverie.

Charlotte Hatch, soloist (not a student at State): April.

Mr. Edward White, pianist.
Madrigal Singers: Selections.

W. A. A. WELCOME
FRIDAY EVENING

GATER GLANCES

By RUDY RUDD

San Francisco State is now entering its fourth year of intercollegiate athletics. Although the diet has been rather spare at times, they have not been altogether lean years.

Coach Cox, with a little band of men students, started a basketball team in the spring of 1931. This outfit went through the season without scoring a victory against a representative team. Since then State has had one undefeated track team, and two fine basketball squads, a good tennis team, and three fighting football squads. Not at all impressive at first glance.

Track has been the most successful sport at State. In the three years of intercollegiate competition we have won thirteen and lost five dual track meets.

Gater basketball and tennis teams are on a par. They win when they compete in their own class, and come in second in the big time. We still lack reserve man-power.

Although outplayed in many of their football games, the Gater eleven have not been out-fought in one of them. All three years the football teams have been a credit to the college.

So much for intercollegiate events. A different type of team and individual athletics is to be sponsored by the Physical Education Department. This can best be explained by the letter received from Dick Davis. It reads as follows:

"Dear Rudy:
"I'd like to announce the intramural program to be in effect starting this term. Would you give me a little space in your first issue so that those interested can be thinking about the thing?"

"Synchronizing with the forward progress of the college as a whole, the athletic program for the coming year will be a wider, more comprehensive schedule of activities than has ever before been attempted at State.

"In addition to all the regularly scheduled sports, such as baseball, track, football, basketball, etc., a great intramural sports program will be sponsored by the department. The schedule for the spring semester includes tournaments in tennis, and football passing, track and cross country meets, the organization and playing of intramural leagues in touch-football, speedball, and basketball. In short, includes some sort of athletic activity available to every man in the student body, regardless of ability. The greatest amount of activity for the greatest number is to be the policy of athletics at State more than ever before.

"So, how about everybody getting behind the program 100 per cent. Take an active interest in it, and put it over. Here's congratulations and best wishes for continued success to the basketball teams, and best wishes for successful seasons to the track, swimming, tennis and baseball teams. Let's go, 1934!"

"Sincerely,
"DICK DAVIS,
"General Athletic Manager."

"The Spartans just couldn't miss the bucket. Downs was again the feature of the attack. He made four goals in nine shots, a good record in any league. Donohue, the defensive star of Friday night, was missing from the Gater lineup Saturday night due to a knee injury sustained in the closing minutes of play in the Friday fracas. This is one of the big reasons for the big difference in the scores of the two

Gaters Drop Two Casaba Contests To Spartan Team

Games Hotly Contested,
Donohue Unable to Play Saturday

State lost both games of the double-header played with San Jose this last week-end. The scores were 30 to 25 Friday night, and 31 to 19 Saturday night.

As the score indicates, the game Friday night was closer and harder fought. The Gaters drew first blood when Henry, center, sank a set-up shot in the first minute of play. The lead was not kept long. Spartan sharpshooters soon hit the ring for four field goals and a free throw. McGrew and Kaufman got busy before the end of the half, and scored enough to keep us in the running. The half ended with the count 16 to 13 in favor of San Jose.

Gelatt Starts Rally to Tie Score
Carl Gelatt, at forward, led the fighting Gaters in a rally that brought the score to 20 all, after five minutes of play in the second half. About this time Downs and Holmberg of San Jose came out of it and from then on it was all Spartan.

Downs was high point man for the visitors. He garnered nine points. His dribbling and passing, coupled with his accurate shooting, made him the outstanding man for San Jose. Arnerich, guard, played a good defensive game for the Spartans. McGrew, of State, tied Downs for high point honors with nine markers. Kenny was watched plenty close and got few open shots. It was just a case of too much Arnerich that night.

Second Game Close in First Half
The Spartan second string started the game Saturday night. Practically insulted at this, the Gaters ran up six points in the first five minutes. The San Jose varsity was quickly injected into the game. After fifteen minutes of play, the score was ten to six, in favor of State. The half ended with San Jose leading, 11 to 10, and plenty surprised.

The second half was hard fought, but the Spartans just couldn't miss the bucket. Downs was again the feature of the attack. He made four goals in nine shots, a good record in any league. Donohue, the defensive star of Friday night, was missing from the Gater lineup Saturday night due to a knee injury sustained in the closing minutes of play in the Friday fracas. Hal Hardin To Organize Swim Team

Sprint Veterans Return;
Distance Men, Divers
Lacking on Squad

Realizing the need for new material for the varsity swimming team, Coach Hal Hardin is planning the first intramural swimming meet ever to be held in the college. The meet is to be held in one of the downtown tanks in the early part of February. Swimming is rapidly becoming one of the outstanding sports in the western colleges, and Coach Hardin is determined to have a team worthy of this institution.

Swimming was made part of the sports program in 1931. The 1931 team had a successful season, winning several of their meets from the junior colleges. The team was dropped in 1932. The 1933 mermen, hampered by lack of material and want of practice facilities, dropped every major meet. Coach Hardin determined not to have a repetition of the previous season, is planning on daily workouts and intense coaching.

Returning veterans are Ed Beach, ace sprint star; Rudy Rudd, middle distance speedster; Kirk Truman, the mainstay of the '31 and '33 teams; Bill Wollison, back stroke artist, and Emmett Mahoney, 100-yard performer. New material must be found for the long distance events, the relays, medley swims and diving. Unless new men are found for these events swimming may once again be abandoned.

Meets have been scheduled tentatively with San Mateo Junior College, San Jose State Teachers, St. Mary's College, San Mateo High School, and the Y. M. C. A. Various practice meets have been scheduled with local institutions.

After being ahead by a six-point margin during most of the first half, the Gaters won by a 37 to 22 margin after a great uphill battle.

The experienced Olympic Club team had little difficulty defeating the Gaters on December 21 by a score of 39 to 21. This game, played on the Club court, found the Gaters battling against terrific odds in the form of too much height and experience, but they battled every minute of the game. The Winged O athletes led by a 23 to 5 score at half time, and the Gaters held them even in the second period, each scoring 16 points. Little Ken McGrew was the shining light for the Gaters with 12 points to his credit. He really played the Olympians off their feet with his snarl floor game. Frank Lubin, former U. C. L. A. star, was high point man of the game with 13 points.

The P. E. Majors Club is of recent origin. It is established to more closely unite those women students who intend to become athletic instructors; its aim is to foster professional interest in athletics. The organization is sponsored by Miss Cundiff, assistant professor of Physical Education, and there are five students on the commissary board. They are: Lois Lundstedt, chairman; Alice Freitas, secretary; Dorothy Anderson, treasurer; Mary Lyons, chairman of committees; and Muriel Barthold, chairman of publicity.

The Gater squad has been strengthened by several transfers and freshmen. They are: Harry Post, guard, a recent transfer from San Mateo Junior College, where he was a two-year letter man; Cyril Atkinson, towering "six-foot-four" freshman, who played center for the St. James Military Academy squad, and Frank Reagan, forward from U. S. F. Though not starting, these men will materially strengthen the squad and may see action late in the game.

Probable starting lineups and squads follow:

Chico Farmer, a local Chico boy, who has hopes of making good in the big city, will send Ken McGrew and Carl Gelatt or "Tish" Thomas and Ray Kaufman into the Marysville Junior College, whom they defeated. The Gaters have had eleven contests and will possibly present a smoother team. Coach, Former Student, Clash

Coach Acker has an impressive ten-year record with Chico, and believes that his team this year is the strongest to ever carry the Wildcats' red and white into battle. Acker will start "Red" Irwin, 1932 all-Conference center at pivot; Ernest Lambrecht, of gridiron fame at forward; "Red" Roberts, sophomore sensation, will team with Lambrecht at forward; Eugene Maxey and Robert Foster, first string guards, who are both over six feet, and have had two years varsity experience.

STATERS' HOOP RECORD INCLUDES SIX VICTORIES

With an impressive pre-season record of six victories and three defeats to their credit, the State varsity quintet has prospects for a highly successful year.

The Gater casaba hurlers started practice in the early part of November, and after a week of training encountered the U. S. S. Maryland team, champions of the navy, on the State court. State won this game, 34 to 20. Ken McGrew and "Tish" Thomas, State forwards, tied for high point honors with eight points each.

Golden Gate J. C. Defeated Twice
The Staters continued to display good early season form and won two games from Golden Gate J. C. on November 17 and 18. The score of the first contest, played in the State gym, was 37 to 22, and the second encounter, played on the Y. M. C. A. court, resulted in a 34 to 22 victory for the Gaters. McGrew amassed a total of 20 points for the doubleheader, to lead in the scoring. Ray Kaufman followed closely with 14 digits.

The Wildcats, champions of the B Division of the Industrial League, met the Gater five in the State gym November 24 and gave the Staters their first real competition. The Gaters won by a 37 to 22 margin after a great uphill battle.

After being ahead by a six-point margin during most of the first half, the Gaters won by a 37 to 22 margin after a great uphill battle.

The experienced Olympic Club team had little difficulty defeating the Gaters on December 21 by a score of 39 to 21. This game, played on the Club court, found the Gaters battling against terrific odds in the form of too much height and experience, but they battled every minute of the game. The Winged O athletes led by a 23 to 5 score at half time, and the Gaters held them even in the second period, each scoring 16 points. Little Ken McGrew was the shining light for the Gaters with 12 points to his credit. He really played the Olympians off their feet with his snarl floor game. Frank Lubin, former U. C. L. A. star, was high point man of the game with 13 points.

The P. E. Majors Club is of recent origin. It is established to more closely unite those women students who intend to become athletic instructors; its aim is to foster professional interest in athletics. The organization is sponsored by Miss Cundiff, assistant professor of Physical Education, and there are five students on the commissary board. They are: Lois Lundstedt, chairman; Alice Freitas, secretary; Dorothy Anderson, treasurer; Mary Lyons, chairman of committees; and Muriel Barthold, chairman of publicity.

The Gater squad has been strengthened by several transfers and freshmen. They are: Harry Post, guard, a recent transfer from San Mateo Junior College, where he was a two-year letter man; Cyril Atkinson, towering "six-foot-four" freshman, who played center for the St. James Military Academy squad, and Frank Reagan, forward from U. S. F. Though not starting, these men will materially strengthen the squad and may see action late in the game.
